Incidents and Accidents in and About Yale.

Washington Gardner, Dec. 9th. We are one day late this week but try it all to Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Carter is a thoroughly competent nurse. All who engage her will be assured of this.

Holden Bros. want 2,500 live chickens next Saturday, December 8th, at their meat market in Yale.

The faculty thought it best to have one day in which to recover from Thanksgiving, therefore our public schools are closed today.

On Wednesday evening, November 21st, 1894, at the M. P. parsonage, Charles Carson and Mary Jane Spring were united "until death do them part" by Rev. Windrem.

Are you bothered with dandruff or any skin disease? If so, try the silver Fandruff Cure, a new and speedy remedy for sale by McKenna & Lennon. Sample boxes 10 cts. Large size 50 cts.

Jacob VanClef's team created quite an excitement Tuesday by coming down Main Street under full speed with no driver. They were stopped at the post-office, however, before they had torn up the town, as they evidently had intended doing.

Dr. Warner Cornell, my brother and partner, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist of Port Huron, is confined to his bed with malarial fever, consequently he will not be able to make his usual visit to Yale this month, November 30th, but will be there December 28th. Dr. E. A. Cornell.

An exchange says: If a man has a kind of his own and courage to express his idea, he is called by his enemies a crank. We wish the world was full of just such cranks. If a man is slow and easy and coincides with the ideas of every one and has no backbone, he is called a pretty good fellow. The proper name for such a person should be a fool, and the less we have of such in this world the better.

New Jersey has a unique dog law, according to a decision made by one of her judges. A man was sued for keeping a vicious dog. It was put in evidence that he had bitten one person, no more. The judge decided that one bite did not make a vicious dog, and that therefore the bitten one was not entitled to damages. Jersey canines are therefore entitled to one good bite at a member of the human race.

Madam, your attention, please. Do you expect to dye this season? We mean, will you dye any stockings, carpets, cloaks, dresses, feathers, or anything for if you intend to, we are anxious to have you dye with Magic Dyes. They are easy to use and so believe them superior to most other brands. Carpet weavers who have used them say they give more durable colors which do not crack or fade like others. They color cotton, wool, etc., with same package, thus doing better work on mixed goods. Although the packages are larger and color about double the goods, we sell them at 10 cents, same as other brands. Sold by Grant Holden, Yale.

The dedicatory services of the M. E. church Sunday, Dec. 9th.

Firemen's meeting next Wednesday evening, December 8th. Election of officers.

Mrs. John Stratton is slowly improving after a few weeks sickness. Her sister Mrs. B. Waters is attending her. L. Row hurt his elbow; consequently Jack McDonald has been wielding the blacksnake from the elevated seat of Yale's Tally Ho this week.

Jim Loree, who sprained his ankle some three weeks ago, has sufficiently recovered as to be at work again and says he "feels as spry as a kitten."

Rev. Windrem is still conducting revival meetings at Spenser with good success. Six persons were taken into full membership of the church on Sunday last.

Rebecca Simpson, who is boarding at Mrs. Carter's, has been sick for some time but is improving nicely. She will be able to go to her work in a short time.

Peerless Hive, L.O.T.M., will hold its regular meeting next week Friday evening at which time officers will be nominated. A full attendance of members is requested.

It was a brother of Walter Knapp who was hooked by a cow last week instead of his son as stated in last week's issue of the Expositor. The young lad is getting along nicely.

Lost.—Somewhere between the village of Yale and the corner one mile west, an overcoat, nearly new, for boy about 14 years of age. Finder will please leave same at this office. 39-2

Stella Darcy's pupils in the high school presented her with a manicure set, a volume of Tennyson's poems and a handkerchief case as a token of their appreciation of her kindness to them.

Dr. A. Dale Covey visited our town again last Saturday and finds here a rapidly increasing practice. No one would do better than to go to him as he saves a great deal of pain in the extraction of teeth.

John Hersey died at his home in Greenwood on Friday, November 23, 1894, of typhoid fever, at 22 years. Funeral services were held at the house on Sunday on account of other sickness in the family.

Prof. Martyn, an impersonator, appeared at Central hall Wednesday and Thursday evenings last week and delighted his audience with his foibles, tricks and impersonations. He gave very good entertainments.

Washington Barber who has been quite sick with typhoid fever died at his home in Greenwood on November 23, 1894, at the age of 37 years. Funeral services were held at Disciple church in Yale on Sunday, Elder R. B. Brown officiating.

Married by Elder George Kitley at the residence of the bride's parents on Wednesday, November 28th, 1894, Rachael, daughter of Thomas Gullitt, to Fred Secor, both of Brockway. May happiness and prosperity attend them through life.

The members of the M. E. church of Yale voted unanimously for the "Admission of Women to the General Conference." Our sentiments are voiced in this act as the Expositor thinks the ladies should be embraced in or by the conference.

C. R. Holden and the publisher of the Expositor returned Wednesday night from a three days hunting trip in Sanilac county, where they found some good sport among the small game. They enjoyed the hospitality of John Miller and wife who kindly entertained them during their stay.

The members of the ladies aid society of the M. P. church and a number of invited guests ate Thanksgiving turkey at the M. P. parsonage. As gentlemen are not included in the society we were not witnesses or partakers on this occasion but we think the ladies were sufficient in disposing of the turkey.

A visit to Brown & Cooper's new furniture store on the corner of Duffie Block will be a refreshing sight to furniture seekers. They have an elegant line of fancy goods, as well as goods in cheaper styles, tastefully arranged for exhibition, and intend adding to the stock as the wants of the trade demand, so that none need go out of town saying they can't get what they want in Yale. Call on them. Their prices are reasonable.

Tuesday morning last a cigar agent, who had probably been calling on some of our "jag" merchants, stepping into E. F. Pratt's barber shop and presented a bill for collection, that had been paid some time ago. Ed tried to reason with him that the bill was paid, showed receipt in his own hand writing, but this did not seem satisfactory, and the "boozer" commenced to "come down" on our barber with large unspiritual epithets in great liberality. Would you believe it, Ed rose up on his dignity, grabbed a chair, made about three or four "tonches" and landed the impudent cur out on the sidewalk.

The preacher was having a sort of a test meeting by asking the congregation questions on their conduct. "Now, brethren," he said, "all of you who pay their debts will please stand up." In response to this there was apparently unanimous stepping. "Now," said the preacher, asking the others to sit down, "all those who do not will please stand up." One man alone arose. "Ah, brother," said the preacher, "why is it that you of all this congregation of brethren should be so different?" "I don't know, parson," he replied slowly as he looked around over his friends and acquaintances in the meeting, "unless it is that I ain't a liar."

A beautiful and instructive entertainment will be given in the Brick Chapel next Monday evening for the benefit of the church. The committee have secured a stereopticon instrument, and a friend in Indiana has kindly forwarded several hundred views, some of them very expensive, and very grand and beautiful, consisting of scenes from our own and foreign lands, battle and Bible scenes, and also a sprinkling of comic to please the young folks. This is going to be a treat, unique and new, and cannot fail to please, amuse and instruct. Singing will also be introduced to lend charm to the entertainment. Remember the time, next Monday, sharp at 7:30. Admission 15c for adults, and 10c for children.

Dedication of the new M. E. church Dec. 9th.

Colds in profusion, handkerchiefs in confusion.

Mrs. Saunders is very sick at her home on Jones street.

Yale Tent KOTM will nominate officers next Tuesday evening.

A change of ad will be found in this issue for Mrs. Taylor of the Yale Bazaar.

J. A. Davidson & Co. have just received a new line of China and Art Goods for their Crockery Department.

Jennie Murray, of Melvin, while on a visit to Thomas Darcy and family, was taken very sick but is much better at present.

Charles Parker, formerly of Roseburg, writes us to direct his Expositor to Little Falls, N. Y., where he is now located with his family.

Song service with a new programme will be rendered in Brick Chapel next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Every body welcome. No collection.

The township treasurer, Geo. Middleton, has a notice in this issue that he will be at the Rapley House every Friday during December, to receive taxes.

No singing school this week on account of Prof. Sturgis being away out of Thanksgiving turkey. Mr. Sturgis will be here next Wednesday evening as usual.

Florence Marakle entertained a number of her young associates at her home in Yale on Thanksgiving day, it being her birthday. A very pleasant time was enjoyed.

To people with a sweet tooth—we would ask you to call on McKenna & Lennon, our popular druggists, who have lately added to their stock a fine assortment of confectionery.

The woolen mill has been shut down for a few days on account of a leak in the boiler which is being mended. This institution has done a large business in manufacturing this season.

The attendance at the Union Sabbath school teachers' meeting is steadily increasing. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, December 4th, in the Brick chapel. C. R. Holden, leader.

The Sanitar Jeffersonian, which has been published in Lexington for the past thirty-five years, has been moved to Crosswell, which town has been well supplied with a good paper, the Crosswell Democrat for a long time.

Died, in Clyde, on Tuesday, November 27, Mrs. Hartwig, at the age of 48 years. The funeral was held at the Dunkard church, Elder George Kitley preaching the sermon. The remains were interred in the Lett cemetery.

I would like to purchase a second-hand stove. Any person having such an article to dispose of at any time would do well to inform me of the fact as I often have a call for second-hand stoves, either wood or coal. Lewis Bow.

J. Ferguson, of Jeddo, will have bills out in a few days announcing a great reduction in the price of horse-shoeing. Mr. Ferguson has established himself at Jeddo and is known far and near as a first-class blacksmith. All who have work in his line give him a call.

Since Japan is getting on top in Asia the nations of Europe one after another see in her go and hustle a remarkable resemblance to their own national spirit. Englishmen say Japan is the England of the east. The French papers call her the France of the orient. Germany sees a likeness to her own military spirit in the discipline and management of the Japanese. But they are all wrong, every one of them. The Japanese are the Yankees of reconstructed Asia. See?

Last Sunday night while Joseph Collins and family, living north and west of the village, were wrapped in peaceful slumbers, some miserable sneak entered their hen coop and "gobbled" onto three fine turkeys. We honestly believe that any person who will stoop so low as to rob a roost has no respect for law or themselves; but taking into consideration these "Democratic hard times," and the nearness of Thanksgiving, it may have been necessary in this case. We would just say to the party that Joe is a good-hearted fellow and would far rather give him the turkeys, if he would only ask for them like a white man, than to have him skulking and sneaking around the premises.

The dedication of the M. E. church will occur Sunday, Dec. 9th. Dr. Washington Gardner has been secured for the occasion has an extended reputation as a popular orator and eloquent preacher. Dr. Gardner will be assisted by Rev. Joshua Stansfield of Port Huron, one of the most prominent of the younger preachers in Michigan Methodism. The building reflects great credit upon those who have had the enterprise in charge and the result is seen in the fine edifice which will be dedicated one week from Sunday next. That the attendance will be limited only by the capacity of the church—and it will seat nearly 500—evident from the excellent talent secured to conduct the services. Former pastors and other ministers are expected.

The two parties of sportsmen who have been north hunting the deer returned home last week. The party consisting of Sam, Jim and Henry Welch, Henry Turner, John Ward, John Cooper, and Warren Bowdway were lucky in securing fifteen deer and Henry Welch covered himself with glory by shooting three of these, this being Henry's first trip. Henry Turner killed a fine large buck and brought home the horns as a trophy. The other party included Grant Holden, James Wallace, Chauncey Kelley, of Yale, Jesse Hoten and Frank Snyder, of Brown City, and Mark Brown, of Saginaw. Seven deer was the result of their labors and sport with these animals and immensely did they enjoy themselves. Both parties returned well pleased with their trip.
